

Baby Light & Clip takes the guesswork out of trimming

February 17th, 2008

I have a confession to make: I have accidentally pinched my little one's fingertips while trying to trim her nails, and I've done it more than once. With such little fingernails and such little clippers it's easy to see how this could've happened. Sure, I could try to trim while my baby's sleeping, but sleep is such a precious thing there's no way I'm going to chance waking her up. Thankfully I'm not the only one who approaches nail trimming with some apprehension, because that apprehension is what led one mom to invent the Baby Light & Clip, a tool that takes the guesswork out of nail trimming!

Baby Light & Clip is a lighted nail clipper that helps show just where to clip baby's nails. The light illuminates the underside of the nail so you can safely see where to trim. (This is a great feature for those brave enough to attempt trimming while baby's sleeping.) But this isn't Baby Light & Clip's only cool feature. It also has safety guards to keep you from nicking baby's skin, or in my case pinching those little fingertips. The handle is not only comfortable but helps you maneuver the clipper a lot more easily than that tiny one you're currently using. Plus it has a nail clipping tray that helps prevent those tiny clippings from landing in your little one's bedding or changing pad (where we do most of our trimming). All these features in one ingenious product and a travel case to boot!

My husband and I both think this mom-invented product is pretty cool, and if my 6-month-old could talk I'm sure she'd tell me how excited she is about Mom using the Baby Light & Clip. (She's probably so happy about it she'll actually hold still next time I use it...ha ha.) –Emily**

35 Responses to “Baby Light & Clip takes the guesswork out of trimming”

stacey moore says: these are so neat. the feature i like the best is: Safety Guards that Help prevent baby’s tiny fingertip from going in between cutting blades.

daria says: I really love this product. Trimming my baby’s nails was always a stressful time for me. I think this is brilliant. I want to give them to all my expecting friends. Thanks for the great review!! I love the guard to keep baby safe - well worth the peace of mind.

Jennifer says: I still remember–vividly–the first time I pinched my little guy’s fingers. I think I cried more than he did. I would love a product like this! Ingenious!

Shay says: This is great! Thankfully I have not cut my daughter, but the squirmer she gets who knows what I could do.

Rachie S. says: What a great invention!!

Cindi Hoppes says: Hi, Another feature is that the light shows sharp edges with which a baby could scratch itself

Katie Kates says: Plus plus for the light!

Noreen says: I would say the light. I clip my youngest when she is sleeping so an extra light is great

Jenna says: Definitely the light– I’d love to try clipping while she’s sleeping!

MJimenez says: Everything about this product is wonderful. I love the “Compartment” feature; with a 2 yr old this would come in very handy.

Bree says: I love that it is so compact, I can keep it in the diaper bag!

Lisa O says: I love how it can show the sharp edges that need cut. That’s wonderful!

Patti says: I can’t get past the fact that it has a light!

Vida says: Besides the light, my favorite part is the Safety Guard to help stop fingers from getting pinched instead of just the finger nails.

Sara says: I love the light! Nail cutting is one of my least favorite things to do.

ASHLEY says: I love this! My son hates having his nails trimmed and this would help!

Naomi says: Aside from the obvious coolness of the light, I like the compartment that keeps nail clippings off of me!

Mary says: Wow this product is so cool. I love the fact that there is a light at the end so you can see in great detail exactly where you should clip. No hurt fingers.

aBookworm says: Finally - someone give this mom a Nobel award please or something similar! This is a great invention! The feature I like most is that it shows the sharp edges, a constant source of frustration for me and scratches for poor Kiddo.

Lana G. says: This is such a great product!

jessica says: AH, SOMETHING TO CATCH THOSE TINY CLIPPINGS....

Marci says: I love the fact that it keeps the clippings in. No falling out into everything.

Susanne says: I love the light and these clippers, so much so I just gave them in a baby gift this week, but now I would love to win a pair...we don't have any!! Thanks!!

Danielle S says: I have a neurological disorder that causes tremors, so I can ONLY cut baby's nails while he sleeps! The light is my fave feature, for sure! And the safety guard for added protection from my hands shaking!
Thanks

Alex Herring says: I love that it has a light on it. Thank You.

Ruth says: Favorite feature: clipper catcher. I always trim nails in bed and am constantly finding these (a little princess and the pea syndrome, I think)

Angela says: Connor's fingernails are impossible to clip as he is sooo light skinned that light would really help me see what's going on 😊

emily says: I can I say that I think the light is the "duh" moment.....that's the best part!

Jenni says: I love the light. I'm hoping it would distract my girls so they would hold still while I try to cut!

Kari says: I love that it shows sharp edges. I mean, how many of us parents have clipped all the nails just to see a major scratch on their baby's face right after?? It is always those sneaky corners!!

Heather says: Cutting baby finger nails is such horrible job! I love the safety guard that prevents you from snipping the tips of their tiny fingers.

Sara says: i think the light is the most innovative feature of this product. Wow!